"Barack Obama is Destroying Our Economy on Purpose," an interview with author James Simpson.

On March 9, Brannon Howse of Worldview Radio interviewed author James Simpson. Entitled "Barack Obama is Destroying Our Economy on Purpose," Howse's interview of Simpson concentrated on Columbia University professors Richard Andrew Cloward and Frances Fox Piven who wrote an article in 1966 for The Nation magazine. "The article was published on May 2, 1966 and laid out what is now known as the 'Cloward-Piven Strategy'. The plan calls for the destruction of capitalism in America by swelling the welfare rolls to the point of collapsing our economy and then implementing socialism by nationalizing many private institutions," explains a synopsis on the Worldview Radio website. "Cloward and Piven studied Saul Alinsky just like Hillary Clinton and President Obama."

Alinsky is considered to be the founder of modern community organizing in America. Alinsky's teachings influenced Obama early in his career as a community organizer on the far South Side of Chicago. Obama worked for Gerald Kellman's Developing Communities Project where he learned and taught Alinsky's methods for community organizing. Obama would later work for ACORN (the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now).

According to Sol Stern of the Manhattan Institute, ACORN is a modern successor of the radical 1960's "New Left" and holds a "1960's-bred agenda of anti-capitalism" to be implemented through "undisguised authoritarian socialism."

It is a brand of "undisguised authoritarian socialism" supported by the establishment. As the Union News reported last October, ACORN receives funding from the Robin Hood Foundation, a charity supported — to the tune $9,859,453 — by the globalist George Soros and his Soros Fund Charitable Foundation.

"Soros is the visible side of a vast and nasty secret network of private financial interests, controlled by the leading aristocratic and royal families of Europe, centered in the British House of Windsor," writes William Engdahl. According to Engdahl, Soros "is part of a tightly knit financial mafia — 'mafia,' in the sense of a closed masonic-like fraternity of families pursuing common aims."

As Antony Sutton documented (Wall Street & the Bolshevik Revolution), the very fount of "authoritarian socialism" was created and lavishly funded by the bankers. "The involvement of the Rockefellers with their supposed blood enemies, the Communists, dates back to the Bolshevik Revolution," notes Gary Allen (None Dare Call it Conspiracy, chapter 6). "The Federal Reserve-CFR insiders began pushing to open up Communist Russia to U.S. traders soon after the revolution."

In addition, the bankers have supported "communism" in the United States. Considering this, it should come as no surprise the anti-capitalist "Cloward-Piven Strategy" was published by The Nation, a magazine with a well-documented connection to the CIA. As researcher Bob Feldman notes, The Nation is connected to the National Endowment for Democracy, a CIA front group involved in overthrowing countries around the world by way of "color revolution." The CIA has a history of collaboration with the Ford Foundation (see James Petras: "The Ford Foundation and the CIA: A documented case of philanthropic collaboration with the Secret Police").

[efoods]In 1954, Rowan Gaither of the Ford Foundation told Reese Commission investigator Norman Dodd that "the directives under which we operate is that we shall use our grant making power to alter life in the United States so that we can comfortably be merged with the Soviet Union."

This merging with the Soviet Union (or more accurately, "authoritarian socialism") has nothing to do with the sort of communism taught in school textbooks — a dictatorship of the proletariat and the workers — but rather it is an authoritarian control system engineered by the bankers and the global elite. "This new and complete Revolution we contemplate can be defined in a very few words. It is ... outright world-socialism, scientifically planned and directed," H.G. Wells wrote in The New World Order.

It is a mistake to believe the Cloward-Piven Strategy is scheme cooked up by academic Marxists of "New Left" bent dedicated to the destruction of capitalism in the name of some sort of vaguely defined humanitarianism. In fact, "the destruction of capitalism in America by swelling the welfare rolls to the point of collapsing our economy and then implementing socialism by nationalizing many private institutions" is a meticulous plan on the part of the global elite to consolidate power and destroy all opposition.

It has nothing to do with liberating the proletariat but rather subjecting them to banker engineered "world-socialism, scientifically planned and directed" and devised to transform the planet into a banker dominated high-tech prison gulag.

"This new and complete Revolution we contemplate can be defined in a very few words. It is ... outright world-socialism, scientifically planned and directed," H.G. Wells wrote in The New World Order.
