Well said MCM.

On this subject, I would like to mention rapper O'Shea Jackson (Ice Cube) who turned down some film contracts worth several million because the contract required him to be "vaccinated". He did an interview with Tucker Carlson on this issue. More rappers should have followed his example.

I love how some do mental gymnastics trying to fool us into believing a 24 yr old died of natural causes. Its the "vaccine' or as I like to call it by its rightful name, the "bioweapon injection".

It's weird how the top-tier artists seem to go unscathed. It makes you wonder, either they're more discerning, or they have the luxury to not participate when others feel they have to to survive, or they're simply super-human which is why they're top-tier to begin with. Whatever the case may be, someone needs to remind Big Pharma and their defenders that black lives matter. Or, at least put a warning on the vaccine, like the parental advisory the rappers are required to put on their albums. Strong language is one thing, but deadly pharmaceuticals is another.

Isn't the Boss a "top-tier artist"? Clapton? Elton John? Paul Simon? If Charles and Kate Middleton are fighting turbo-cancers, and Lord Rothschild "died suddenly," we need to rethink who are insiders and who aren't.

I've wondered the same thing.

I've also noticed that the faces of many media figures and politicians have aged beyond what would be considered normal over the past couple of years. It's as if you can tell who got vaxxed with "hot" shots and who didn't by the degree of "vaxx face" they have developed.

It is shameful how the fact checkers and media lie to us! The gas lighting makes me furious!

Thank you MCM and team. So many who could have broken through the mind control have now been silenced by the death vax.
