The Vaccine War: who really has the upper hand?

I don't believe governments are telling the truth about how many people have taken the COVID shot. I think they're lying. Inflating the numbers because they're desperate; far more people than advertised are refusing the vaxx.

In every war, spies and other hired hands try to demoralize the enemy. This is standard operating procedure. Inflating key numbers is one strategy.

In this vaccine war, the ace in the hole is obvious: if enough people say NO to the shot, it's over. A tidal wave will engulf the governments and their corporate allies.

If people believed, say, that only 30% of Americans have taken the shot, and that number is holding steady, despite all the new mandates, morale would shoot up to a new high.

It always feels better to be on a winning side.

If most Americans knew that massive anti-vaxx protests are taking place in France and Germany and other countries, their attitude would shift. If most Americans knew that in Australia, the most fascist pro-vaxx government in the world is sweating bullets, because despite horrendous lockdowns and vaccine mandates, despite cops and soldiers on the streets, Aussies are still going to the beach...that knowledge would bolster spirits.

If people opposed to the vaccine and/or the mandates could get an accurate count on how many posts and how many videos and how many accounts have been censored by social media, worldwide, because those posts express opposition to the vaxx...people would see how large the resistance

Archives

Select Month

Here's a report from statista.com: "As of August 1, 2021, China had administered about 1.67 billion doses of coronavirus COVID-19 vaccine, whereas about 4.18 billion doses of the vaccine had been applied worldwide."

I don't believe it. I don't think the global organization and the logistics are that good. People who've traveled extensively know how diverse and spread-out the global landscape is. They know how inefficient many, many governments are.

The world isn't one huge well-lit modern pharmacy with people lined up and techs administering the jabs.

As several people have pointed out, the unvaccinated are a control group in this vast COVID vaccine experiment. If a year from now, millions and millions of us who didn't take the shot are obviously still healthy, that's not going to sit well with the vaccinators-in-charge or the pro-vaccine crowd. They don't want a vibrant control group. They want compliant robots.

Then there is this, from Stat News, July 21: "Millions of unused Covid-19 vaccines are set to go to waste as demand dwindles across the United States and doses likely expire this summer, according to public health officials..."

"Currently, states have administered 52.36 million fewer doses than have been distributed to them, according to federal data."

"A significant tranche of Pfizer doses is expected to expire in August... Given waning domestic vaccine demand, those doses are unlikely to be fully used before they must be tossed.”

“We’re seeing demand [for the vaccine] falling off across all the states,’ said Marcus Plescia, chief medical officer at the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials.”

So which sets of statistics should we believe? Those that pump up the numbers of people who’ve taken the shots, or those that show millions of vials going to waste? I think the latter stats are the true indicators. Officials are less likely to confess to them, unless they’re accurate.

Out in front, the movie called COVID VACCINE is being hailed as a brilliant blockbuster, but at the back end, ticket sales are dropping off a cliff.

There are reasons for that. One is: People are having very serious and severe injuries from the shot; they’re dying; and their families and friends know about it.

Here are the latest CDC figures I have, as compiled by Children's Health Defense. The statistics are taken from VAERS, the federal Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System. "VAERS data released today by the CDC showed a total of 463,457 reports of adverse events from all age groups following COVID vaccines, including 10,991 deaths and 48,385 serious injuries between Dec. 14, 2020 and July 9, 2021."

Keep in mind there is vast underreporting of injuries, because most Americans don't know what VAERS is or are hesitant to make a report.

Some analysts have suggested that, to get a reasonably accurate count, you should multiply reported numbers by 10.

The well-known 2010

Harvard Pilgrim Health Care, Inc. study of VAERS bluntly stated: “Adverse events from vaccines are common but underreported, with less than one percent reported to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Low reporting rates preclude or delay the identification of ‘problem’ vaccines, potentially endangering the health of the public.”

Following the finding of that study, you would multiply the number of reported vaccine injuries by 100 to arrive at a proper figure.

The numbers of vaccine injuries and deaths are huge. In any situation other than the current fake pandemic, the vaccination program would have been stopped. Cancelled.

No matter what governments and news parrots say about the vaccine (“safe and effective”), vast numbers of injured people, their families, and the families of those who’ve died from the shot are messengers for the truth.

The truth spreads.

In a war, when combatants and civilians end up in hospitals, and when many of them lie in coffins lowered into the ground, and when the people can no longer hold a coherent story in their minds about why the war is being fought, the whole mood of a country changes.

This is no time for surrendering or joining those who claim doom is the only outcome.

Great post! The more they scandemic) the more they will expose their true tyrannical nature to the otherwise gullible and awaken a larger % of the enemy is.

That includes many who took the jab who are beginning to 2nd guess their trusted authorities as they are hearing stories of not just vaccinated people being infected but also becoming ill and dying while they are being told to keep wearing masks, take booster shots and restrict their movements after being promised freedom if they only take the jab.

The house of cards will crash to the ground as they continue to lose all credibility because that's where their power lies. Things will get rougher but we most all keep the faith

Exactly correct on all points. The American public has been silenced and lied to from the outset up to today. The CDC has refused to provide solid information including vaxx side-effects and testing results. The Deep State is still in the driver's seat and getting the truth is difficult to find.

Yes. The current “Lockdown” in Queensland includes the ‘vaccinated’. ‘Mandatory’ mask-wearing for the ‘vaccinated’ too. No special treatment of the ‘vaccinated’ here yet. The numbers being ‘vaccinated’ are extremely low, both on the Health Department’s reported figures, and in actuality.

Mark Dice gathers signatures on the San Diego boardwalk from the covidiot, and gets a few good protests from the still-sane ones who aren't cowed by the flip-flopping Mood Swing Media. The last guy sees through it, and Mark confides in him.

The scariest part is that, even though the dupes for totalitarian brutality sign their endorsements, Mark says they'll have thirty days to think about it before arrest – meaning a month more of supposedly spreading the much-vaunted delta, gamma, zeta, theta, omicron, lambda, kappa, pi, sigma, and partridge in a pear tree variants.

Thank you for describing it as a war. I had just finished commenting on your previous article about this being a war against us, but as an undeclared war, many are unaware of that fact. We are also at a disadvantage to fight back because it's undeclared, but as you have pointed out with the vaccine numbers, we are holding some ground.

The vast majority of people in my family refuse to get jabbed. We have a couple of vaccine-damaged members that have helped form their opinions. Most are wise to the deceit of the government as well so they are not about to volunteer for government-sponsored euthanasia.

I told people from the beginning of this fraud that this is a war. The cabal has been working on a depopulation plan for at least decades. This is an asymmetrical war and most people have no idea what is happening nor that they are targets. TPTB are going for soft kill methods so most will never notice what is happening until it's too late.

MelR says: August 3, 2021 at 12:40 pm

I agree, most people have no idea what is happening – Truly happening that is. They think there is a pandemic and the shot is the remedy. The recipients of the mRNA are unaware of how dangerous it is. Unlike a traditional vaccine, where the most damage is done in the first month, the mRNAs are creating a delayed response and the trial is far from over. Dr. Charles Hoffe in British Columbia has tested the blood of his (mRNA) vaccinated patients and have found small blood clots in 62% of them, too small to be detected in regular scans. This is an indication that severe health problems are following soon.

What is TPTB?

Well, French people know it is war. Their president repeated the word 6 or 7 times during his speech in March 2020. “Nous sommes en guerre”. The war against the people, that was probably the true meaning.

Now they go in the street every Saturday. Last Saturday, in the whole country, they were more than 2 millions in the streets. Even jabbed people, who don't want “vaccine” passports.

The number of injured people from shots is absolutely frightening.

Jon, I went to the cdc website last week and began a county by county look at uptake percentages for the vaccine.

From urban to rural counties and all areas of the state, mountain lowland etc. The uptake numbers are so low.

But then the top line number for the state is around 40%. This is clearly legerdemain.

The county by county numbers are somewhere around 15-20% averaged out.

They have likely doubled the number of reported vaccinated for media use.

I suspect this carries across most other states.

It is another data scam like all the rest.

I encourage you to have a look at the county level data. For instance my county has a 6% uptake. Ha! and the most urban areas and outlying suburbs are between 25-30. So first of all the glaring problem for these criminals is there is mainly on demographic making the bulk of uptake. White urban liberals and suburban white moderates around the big cities who work for a corporate entity. No one else is taking the damned thing.

This is why they are freaking out and turning screws. They expected far greater uptake. One thing is guaranteed, their claims of 50-70% being jabbed is a doubling of the truth.

Good advice. If anyone catches a discrepancy, post your findings. The health departments and agencies (supposedly) work for us, so they should respond to our questions. If they refuse to supply information/data, submit a FOIA request.

Our legislatures also work for us, another source you can report to as well as have a response to your questions.

The CDC/FDA was trying to reduce the number of deaths following vaccination on the VAERS site last month (from 11,000+ to under 6,000). The Wayback Machine for one, could verify what day they did the switch.

It doesn't matter who thinks they have the “upper hand” in this battle. There is only ONE truth. The “science” is simple.

If you're vaccinated for something, that SOMETHING is no longer supposed to be a threat, right?

Hmmmm, how come the COVID thing is not working out that way, according to the dimpocraps who want to lockdown the country and triple mask everyone, even those who were STUPID enough to take the vaccine?

That makes no sense.
NONE.

Vaxxcines either protect or they don't. If they don't, get rid of the vax and just let people do what they've always done. It's not hard to figure out. ANYONE who gets sick with ANYTHING will either be sick and then get well or die. Those are the options, plain and simple.

This COVID crap is nothing but pure political drama, dreamed up by the dimpocrap skunks within their party. Just ask some of the guests at Obozo's birthday party on the 4th of August, 2021. ;)

Hey Jon, I waited to see if anyone would do some research from their state and post about results. Hopefully you are looking deeper into this. Since no one has posted anything yet I decided to dive into Florida, which should be a great state to use a sample because of the broad demographics.

What I am finding so far confirms that what I saw in my state is going on more widely with fake numbers. I have looked at about 20 counties from the panhandle down to miami/dade and broward and central florida around Tampa etc. Here is the first thing to pop out, and its so easy to see the fluffing of data. Topline number is that 70% of the state has had one shot. However only one county, Miami Dade, has vax numbers in the 70s. It is 75. The other bigger counties across the state are 50-65. Smaller counties 30s. Therefore averaged out it doesnt take a math genius to see the number isnt 70 but closer to 50. That is a huge deal. That's florida with all the old people and lots of old retired liberals. Its a state with a massive corporate power. If the numbers in Florida are closer to 50 than 70 you're talking about actual national vax percentages ridiculously low like 25-35%.

You are the investigative journalist so I look forward to your findings from looking a few states county data. Im now assured they are lying from blatant inflation of data.

Many people take the deathshot because they fear being ostracized. They do not necessarily believe in the effectiveness of the injection. They may even believe it is dangerous, hoping they will be exempt from serious side effects. There are no exemptions.

This whole campaign is a Nazi-style final solution.

People truly know this. The Jews knew. Everyone knew. Most people couldn't believe it, but they knew. Others were only too happy the Jews were 'relocated'.

If you cannot acknowledge your own evil, you cannot acknowledge the evil in others. It's that simple.

Neither evil is especially hidden, no, we rather tend to look away and pretend it doesn't exist. This self-alienation comes at a high cost. But the last thing we want to do is to look at ourselves. Nothing frightens us as much as our unconscious mind. As if it contained a monster.

One very proficient way to 'make contact' with your unconscious mind is to recall your dreams and to write them down. The more you are willing to see, the more will your unconscious reveal itself.

This is the only effective weapon against any 'outer' evil.

Build Back Better says August 7, 2021 at 7:11 am

The problem with long agendas is that consciousness evolves. What seemed like a brilliant idea a century ago doesn't quite have the same assuredness behind it today. That's why it all seems so haphazard and clumsily implemented. Many just don't believe in it anymore. The fiction that there is an intellectual cabal smarter than everyone else is why there is no recourse but to wield The Stick. Why do people resort to hitting someone during an argument? Because they know they've lost the intellectual debate and it swiftly downshifts to brute force in order to save face.

So, the charade goes on to save the embarrassment of those who committed to such a harebrained scheme that no one really wants anymore. We're too adult for such games, too wise to go along with such silliness. Many of us have morphed in better angels without even realizing it, but that's what consciousness does – it refines itself and expands to more enlightened ways of looking at things. The myopic, century old eyes can't see the future clearly anymore, shadow-boxing their way out of their own self-imposed prison. Those who can see must lead the way...

“if enough people say NO to the shot, it's over” ...
Rappoport writes.

That's the key element pointing to the true problem. But, unlike what Jon believes, it is not simply a matter of people “knowing” the facts. The true but “culturally and politically forbidden” reality is more encompassing. Read “The 2 Married Pink Elephants In The Historical Room –The Holocaustal Covid-19 Coronavirus Madness: A Sociological Perspective & Historical Assessment Of The Covid “Phenomenon”” by Rolf Hefti at <https://www.rolf-hefti.com/covid-19-coronavirus.html>

Without a proper understanding, and full acknowledgment, of the true problem, no real constructive change is possible.

Well said Mr. Rappaport. Well said indeed. Surrender is not an option.

I keep hearing the jab benefits outweigh the risks– but no one so far has detailed what those benefits are.

And what kind of logic is that? The kind that also thinks if a community sacrifices a young virgin to an angry god everyone else will be “saved?” The kind that says its OK to expend the lives of a few to ensure the survival of the rest?

Superstition has not met its death in this high tech world.

Yes...

I mean, if they were really so confident of their numbers in every direction, why not just go ahead and make the lockdowns only for the unvaccinated while the vaccinated can roam about? For it's not as though the government/s would lack the motivation to do so if there were to be genuine benefits.

For what it may be worth, my personal roundup of what I really think of all this...

‘The Jobs’ are not homogeneous. The Chinese are using two vaccines that are the sort of vaccines that most of us would recognise – inactivated virus with an adjuvant. (The adjuvant is alum, which always gives rise for concern, but rather the Devil you know than the Devil you don't.)

These vaccines are not so successful in percentage terms, but perhaps they won't kill the patient, as the experimental gene-therapy injections seem increasingly to do. And we know nothing whatever about future outcomes. The fact that the Western 'vaccines' target the ovaries and testes and the lining of the uterus should be a reason to stop them all immediately.

Wait, and watch the outcomes, and if the Chinese vaccinations seem safe, demand one of those if you are threatened beyond endurance.

Wow how am I just finding this site? Good read and you are 110% correct. I know four people now injured from the vaccine and one friend of a friend who lost a brother the same night he got the jab, he was 48 years old. Called his sister and asked her to come over cause his head hurt so bad since the shot. When she arrived he was slumped over his computer dead. He was researching (googling) "bad covid 19 vaccine reactions". Of the injured, two of them are over 60 one of which can no longer speak correctly the other just "doesn't feel right" since his first and only shot. Third was a good friend's wife giving birth almost a month early to a still born baby 3 days after the vaccine. Fourth is a friend's kid 19 years old and is losing feeling in his right arm on and off and its still happening and he got injected over 3 months ago. I know ONE person that got covid. They are alive and healthy and smart enough to know they they don't need the vaccine cause they have the best immunity known to man. The natural kind. Stay informed people we are under attack.

I'm afraid it won't be over until it's too late. People will have to die before this is taken seriously; either from these medical experiments, or from war. Before there were the Nuremberg Trials there was a world war... Governments all over the world are drunk on totalitarian powers bolstered by big tech. "Vaccine" uptake has stalled and what has happened? Military deployed in Australia, vax passports in France, UK, Canada, and more lockdowns coming in USA. They can't force anyone to take these injections yet only because they don't have enough troops and police to do so. If it continues they will simply release anthrax or smallpox and then declare martial law. That's a bit harder to cover up, but easier if the internet and cell phones shut down for a few months.

yes it is true of France and Germany, in France, for the 3rd Saturday in a row, a revolution is going on, in all the cities millions are taking to the streets, Marseille, Nice, Montpellier, Paris and many more places in France, they say that we will continue to take to the streets until the Covid passport is abolished and Macron is taken to court, and they will succeed knowing the French.
