The System is Now MORE Leveraged Than It Was in 2007

Posted by : Phoenix Capital .. Post date: 08/05/2014 - 14:41 The Fed managed to pull a rabbit out of a hat last time... by resorting to extraordinary policies. In doing so, it's used up most of its ammo. So there's no telling what will happen if we get another...

logicalman Mon,

Then you support the Palestinians.

Here's another quote from David Ben Gurion, to clarify.

"If I were an Arab leader, I would never sign an agreement with Israel. It is normal; we have taken their country. It is true God promised it to us, but how could that interest them? Our God is not theirs. There has been Anti – Semitism, the Nazis, Hitler, Auschwitz, but was that their fault ? They see but one thing: we have come and we have stolen their country. Why would they accept that?"

O Considering the over 100 mil dead, there were more Jews in Europe at the end of WW2 than before the war started. You dont think there are census to look up?

Which is vastly different than most of the countries in Europe which saw drastic population reduction. So with all the migration and eliminations must really get the libido up in people. Even in gaza with all hell breaking lose and locked up the population has doubled in the last 50 years. The culling is just increasing the numbers and not doing its job.

Plato's Law Mon,

Oh...."facts"....yes, I've heard of those. It's sure hard to argue with "facts." What kind of simpleton are you, or what kind of simpleton do you take most of us to be?

Suppose it's a "fact" for a moment, just for the sake of me making my excellent point. (I believe it's a hoax, but put that aside for now.)

Q: Pray tell, what other "facts" require thought police to pass laws, imprisoning persons for disbelieving said "facts?" (Such is the case in "liberal" Canada and IRC seventeen EU States. Persons stew in prison today for having the wrong thought.)

A: None.

Holocaustianity is the only "fact" whereby persons are imprisoned for disbelieving it. They even assigned the special word "denier" for such disbelief.

When you cross a bridge believing one "wrong" thought should properly result in prison time for person X's safety and protection, then you are absolutely required to prove why other so-called "facts" do not deserve similar fate. In "fact" persons in authority and with sway have already suggested passing global warming denier laws.

I personally believe no particular thought in my head or anyone else's head deserves such corporal punishment.

Unless you believe the planet earth and all its 99.99999% occupants not Judaics, owe some type of debt to insure only this one particular peoples must survive, but all else can go to hell.

Do you believe that?

I suppose you also believe that there is absolutely no "Scientific" evidence leading to the conclusion that the holocaust as it is normally defined is indeed a hoax? You should check the testimoney and evidence on this so-called fact.

Europe that	th the whole Cyprus Fiatsco last year

In 2000/2001 Putin comes onto the scene. He starts nationalizing

Russian assets that were seized by the US via the above mentioned securities fraud / money laundering and putting pressure on the mob. Next thing you know 9/11 happens. There are a lot of bones to pick with the official story, but rather than taking up those issues I'd like to highlight the importance of some officially acknowledged but underreported facts.

On 9/9/01 Ahmad Massoud is assassinated by a fake TV crew that disguised a bomb as a TV camera. Two days later the secret service denies access to a couple of guys claiming to have an interview lined up with Bush in Florida on the morning of 9/11. This is our first direct threat against Bush of the day and indication of some larger plot than hijacked planes. Upon learning of the attacks, Bush insists on returning directly to Washington. In flight, a threat is received in the form of a call from an unknown source saying "Angel is next," angel being code for the president that only insiders would have. (* "Can you confirm the substance of that threat that was telephoned in...that Air Force One is next and using code words?" Fleischer: "Yes. I can. That's correct."(September 13)*)Bush is at this point aware that there is some sort of coup effort going on; for example, all the reporter's onboard AF1 are required to turn their cellphones off because they are worried about the attacking faction tracking cell signals - a capability we can all agree is well beyond that of al-Oaeda.

So Bush is under threat from people with high level insider knowledge. Press secretary acknowledged all this on national TV the day after (Angel is next being called in). Bush diverts to Barksdale which is basically the #2 nuclear command site. After a couple hours there he proceeds to Offutt, which is the #1 nuclear command site. You should also be aware of a variety of drills running on the day of 9/11, Vigilant Guardian. This is a full scale mock up of nuclear war; the whole infrastructure is activated for first strike (incidentally, part of the Vigilant Guardian drill in 2001 included a hijacking of planes as the instigator of the conflict). So what is Bush doing going to Barksdale and Offutt? Clearly trying to bring the nuclear forces to heel in light of learning of high level insider power plays.

This might be starting to sound a bit over the top – high level insiders seizing control of nuclear infrastructure and threatening the president with it. But only a few years later we have a similar incident in 2007 as 6 nuclear weapons are seized, generally regarded as intended for use starting the war in either Iran or Georgia. Later, in 2013, we again have nukes going off base unauthorized. Hours after it was reported in the media Sen. Graham is on TV warning of a nuke hit on South Carolina to be blamed on Syrian rebels; two of top nuclear commanders get dismissed in the following weeks. So high level insider fighting over the nuclear arsenal is pretty standard stuff, well known to the public.

With the question of a struggle over the nuclear arsenal now being common sense rather than shocking, we consider Bush caving to the terrorism line and starting the whole war on terror. You have Putin immediately backing off the seizure of assets in Russia. It won't be until the last couple of years that Putin resumes his assertion of authority over Russia; the US responds in kind with attacks on Syria and Ukraine but Russia has since quietly updated it's missile program and is prepared for nuclear war this time around; you now see a defiant Putin in the face of the 9/11 coup faction. Alongside this remarkable shift in geopolitics, there is an emerging anti-dollar block with the BRIC countries establishing an infrastructure bank last year. Just weeks ago, Glazyev announced this and is widely regarded as being the mouth of Putin; he organized the recent gas deal with Chin for example.

So you see 9/11 was a pivotal event used to extend the US dollar empire under threat of nuclear war for another 10-15 years in the face of an assertive Putin back in 2001 and growing domestic problems for the US Government. (You may recall the 90s was full of anti government militancy, concern over globalization, NAFTA, extraordinary distrust, in general what you would expect of citizens in an empire with no apparent external threat ... the cold war had ended)

So now that broad outline of purpose and motivation for 9/11 is clear, it's easier to come to terms with what your eyes tell you looking at Building 7 implode into its foot print at free fall for example. You don't even necessarily have to view it as an evil thing; the US people are quite severely fucked without something being done to backstop the US dollar."

Sun,

Posting a link is passing the buck. You aren't presenting your own reasoned argument which is intellectually dishonest and lazy.

For those that junked me, is it because you can't reason an argument or or are you so reflexive that your incapable of considering the questions?

I'll be the first to state that over the last 30 years I have been critical of some Israeli actions (USS Liberty and the Sabra and Shatila massacre when Ariel Sharon was in charge of Israeli defence forces) but I don't let a cancerous hate extend to a group of people becuase of their race.

If a Jew living anywhere but Israel gives any kind of support, they are complicit in Israel's crimes. What is going on in Gaza is beyond criminal.

If you look at the logic of the whole holocaust thing, who should understand opression more that the Jews. Why would they then commit the same crimes they claim were committed against them against others?

They aren't.

Before you nut jobs start calling me a Zionist or a Jew lover, I am neither. I live in NY and am sick of the whining overbearing thieving Jews. I don't like Israel, I don't trust them, they are not a "free" society, they treat non Jews like shit. They do however have a right, a logical right to fight back when hundreds of missiles are fired at them from Hamas. The fact that the muslim slime use children and women, and schools to hide behind is their bad, not the stinking jews. In this fight I'm on the jew side, hopefully the poor Palestinian civilians can somehow get rid of Hamas....

Diplomatic methods to resolve this dispute have failed and have been failing since prior to Israels inception.

Diplomacy doesn't work. Peaceful protest does not work. What recourse is left? Seriously? Capitulation or violence are the only 'real' options worth considering. The Palestinians have no leverage, the Zionists will not compromise, so it is no wonder that rockets are flying.

"Let us not ignore the truth among ourselves ... politically we are the aggressors and they defend themselves... The country is theirs, because they inhabit it, whereas we want to come here and settle down, and in their view we want to take away from them their country."

-- David Ben Gurion

"We must use terror, assassination, intimidation, land confiscation, and the cutting of all social services to rid the Galilee of its Arab population."

-- David Ben Gurion

"We must expel Arabs and take their places." -- David Ben Gurion

"Jewish villages were built in the place of Arab villages. You do not even know the names of these Arab villages, and I do not blame you because geography books no longer exist. Not only do the books not exist, the Arab villages are not there either. Nahlal arose in the place of Mahlul; Kibbutz Gvat in the place of Jibta; Kibbutz Sarid in the place of Huneifis; and Kefar Yehushua in the place of Tal al-Shuman. There is not a single place built in this country that did not have a former Arab population."

-- David Ben Gurion

Ethnic cleansing has been going on for the better part of a century...but people are butthurt because of a few primitive rockets? Send the Jews back to where they came from. You know what, fuck it, send them to America. Give them Utah or something. Should save the US government a fortune on foreign aid.

forums provide anonymity for everyone to express opinions of varying depravity. If you're Jewish (or black, white, Indian, Asian, European, etc.), I suggest you grow a thicker skin...and learn to shoot.

And stop visiting these particular threads on ZH if they upset you because having a "reasoned argument" on a topic such as Israel or Jews on this site is not possible.

Not large numbers, 90% or even more are not semite, while the Palestinians are semite. They are the inhabitants of this area since ancient times. Most of them left Judaism and converted to the Mohammedian belief after being conquered and governed by muslim occupants. Maybe thats why Nethanjahu is fighting them so bitterly. The Palestinaians are the original Jews in their majority and did the crime to leave Judaism behind.

By far the most Israelis now living in Israel do have no genetic roots in Palestine as this scientific study from a Jewish scientist clearly shows. http://gbe.oxfordjournals.org/content/5/1/61.full

This study is coming to the same results as the historian Shlomo Sand in his book: The Invention of the Jewish People. http://inventionofthejewishpeople.com/

there are Israelis, Zionists at home and abroad, members of Jewish religious communities and secular Jews, and the "classic" antisemiteTM hates them indiscriminately what the Israeli government is doing is hardening the conflict between two populations. the question is more: where do both populations want to be in 20 or 50 years? as long as the answer is "here, but without the others", the conflict will go on 0 that's hiding behind a very small fig leaf. "anti-semitism" has been used now long enough from both sides of the argument to mean "hatred against jews" "

Would you not agree that anti-semite is (has) largely (become) a codeword used by jews to designate somebody as fair game to be "destroyed" ?

I recenty read in some post or tweet by ADL (anti-defamation league) that the opinion that jews have too much power is apparently antsemitic as well. (what the hell is politics about ? Is it not trying to obtain power by legitimate means, and thus increasing your own relative power ? Does it necessarily mean being against everybody else that loses some power in that process ? Does that make one an anti-everybody (that loses some power) ?)

It is clear to me that anti-semitism is too often used as a mere tool to solidify power, a very transparant tool at that.

I wonder whether they think it is wise to keep declaring people their enemies while some of these people would not really consider themselves enemies.

1 yes, the Anti-Defamation League has put the TM behind 0 antisemiteTM, and treats it as a brand on which they have intellectual rights on the other side, there are lots of antisemites which have nothing to do with the ADL. hatred against jews exists, even in the absence of jews in daily life imho around 10% of us humans are born with the need to hate some out-group. interestingly, if it's a distant out-group this hate is "pure"

The issue you raise goes right to the very heart of the legitimacy of the State of Israel and its claim to a right of self defence. It is the elephant in the room that nobody - especially jews - ever wants to talk about for obvious reasons. If you ask a jew where his roots are, where his ancestors came from or which tribe he belongs to, he will simply tell you that he's "a jew" and that's enough. He will never admit that he's probably an Ashkenazi jew, originally from the old Khazaria region, not from Palestine or North Africa, meaning he has no historical right to a homeland in Palestine. He will then close down the debate. If you persist, he will resort to using "anti-semitic" slurs. That's worked for many decades.

meaning that the National Prerogatives are extended to all those who are born in the fold of that Nation seen this way, there is a Israeli Nation. The armed boys that are now in Gaza were born in Israel, and are part of it of course they will defend their Nation. against perceived or real threats. this "Right" is just a fact. the relevant genetics of a Nation are in it's future, not in it's past so all this "Askenazi" stuff is utterly irrelevant and of very dubious value, imho. Israel-the-nation claims a territory. that's it

1 Sorry Ghordius, I cannot agree 0 with a lot of that.

What you are really saying is that a group of people can claim a nation simply by moving on to someoene else's land (after committing much terrorism) and declaring "This is the State of Israel given to us by God. We are the chosen ones".

That is essentially the law of the jungle (or desert in this case!) but is what happened in Palestine 1948 and elsewhere in the world at different times. That doesn't make it right.

The people who made up the Zionist movement (and to this day cause much of the trouble involving jews) were/are overwhelmingly Ashkenazi jews who never originated from Palestine at all. So their claim on Palestine was, and remains, illegitimate by most measures. It also makes their mention in this debate totally relevant. And let us not forget that Israel has well documented plans to expand and absorb the West Bank and Gaza into a Greater Israel. The theft of other peoples' land apparently hasn't ended.

That many Israeli residents were born in Israel is neither here nor there. It's simply an added complication of their own making (or their parents).

Anyone who rejects the twostate solution, won't bring a one-state solution. They will instead bring one war, not one state. A bloody war with no end. — Israeli President Shimon Peres, 7 November 2009.

One of the most commonly voiced objections to a onestate solution for Palestine/Israel stems from the accurate observation that the vast majority of Israeli Jews reject it, and fear being "swamped" by a Palestinian majority. Across the political spectrum, Israeli Jews insist on maintaining a separate Jewish-majority state.

But with the total collapse of the Obama Administration's peace efforts, and relentless Israeli colonization of the occupied West Bank, the reality is dawning rapidly that the two-state solution is no more than a slogan that has no chance of being implemented or altering the reality of a de facto binational state in Palestine/Israel.... continued

Frankly, I do not believe that Israel has much say in any solution. That must be worked out and imposed by "others". One way or the other it will mean the closing down of Israel as a State and its occupants offered to remain as guests in Palestine or offered a life elsewhere. For those who think that is harsh, they must remember that Israelis are illegitimate squatters on someone else's land.

The one-nation solution will never work as another commenter has explained. Same problems with twostate, Israel is continuing to steal Palestinian land.

done with the Jews that are there in Israel? They've got the nukes and the $billions in "aid" from the US. Is dislodging them do-able? I just don't see it as being feasible or part of "what is possible," even if there is some truth to what you say. A one state solution is more realizable, imo. I'll go back into this thread and look for the post you cite as evidence that the one state solution won't work.

assumes that if TPTB decided to close down Israel then the aid would stop immediately. If Israel didn't agree to comply with a global mandate it would need to be sanctioned. Since it doesn't have too many friends around the world that would be effective. At the same time, the Israelis must be offered a way out, perhaps to another piece of land given to them to create their own country or a life in other countries.

I admit the nukes are a problem but would Israel blow up the whole M/E? If so, then it reinforces that it is a terrorist state.

0 radicalized I used to listen to the good Jew-9/11 truth denier Amy Goodman of Democracy Now! She had some scholar types on the show that said only a single state solution would work. That is, make Gaza/Palestine a part of Israel, and make the Palestinians Israeli citizens. Also, ceding Jerusalem to the UN or some other international group to manage such an important site, was recommended. Having an inherently racist theocracy born of ethnically cleansed Palestinians will be a lightning rod for discontent in Middle East for a long long time. It's been 10 years since I listened to these discourses, but everything I've learned since then tells me that this will be the only way to neutralize the tension in the region.

I've argued elsewhere here that the Rothschilds/Zionists were instrumental in turning lews away from England, the US and elsewhere during WWII, using the crisis to pave the way for the creation of Israel. I'll dredge up the documents, but my understanding is that the Zionists at the highest level are knowingly part of a Secret Society / Order of Death that need the animosity that a false Israel creates. The current iteration is NOT a fulfillment of lewish expectations, but rather a bastardization of it. The Death Set needs enormous blood sacrifice and the destruction of the very nation they created in order to rebuild the temple and bring in what they think will be the real deal under an openly NWO fascist international banker cabal, hopefully with the 500 million world population that some of their structures (like the Georgia Guidestones) aspire to.

1 Awakening to 0 the magnitude of the lie does involve some depression, I am sorry to say. The Rothschilds/Zionists never intended the state of Israel to work. It is meant to galvanize anger as a prelude to a darker level of the plan. The one state solution would mitigate much of the anger -- not all of it, of course, but enough to possibly forestall nuclear war/broad destruction in the area. That is why the elite Zionists do not want a single state solution And that is why it must be pursued. Salaam + Shalom.

"I am quite appalled at the degree of anti-semitism on this site. For those of you who feel strongly in the beliefs that Israel and or its jewish citzenry have no right to self protection or to live without the potential to suffer another holocaust, I would like to understand this rationale. Besides the centuries old belief that the jews are money grubbers, or that centuries old argument of land theft or occupation, what is the rationale for this hatred?"

I'll make this as clear as possible.

Israel and Palestine both think god gave them the same land. There can never in a million years be peace in that land till one or both (I prefer the latter) cease to exist. If anyone including you disagrees one iota with this statement, and you desire or expect to be taken seriously, please think again.

God forsaken US politicians and MSM reps list every kind of ridiculous statement to strive for peace, like: "We need a 2-state solution...we can make this work...peace in our time...we owe it to the children..." The sum total reason they list these lies is to hide and justify the fact that Israel-Firsters bribe them for financial and military aid.

Every single Israel bomb hitting Palestine kills one or more future American at the hand of a jihadist. To deny such is stupid or a lie, there's no gray area here. Whether T or F, the Mulsim world perceives every Israel bomb as launched from the USA.

"I would like a reasoned argument based on facts that tells me the following:

In the latest conflict with Hamas, does Israel have a right to defend its borders and prevent its citizens from being attacked by rockets from Gaza?"

Of course yes. That's not the point. The point is what is the net effect of the USA's relationship with Israel? It's net negative by huge margin. I owe Israel nothing. The USA owes Israel nothing, absolutely f'n nothing.

Now answer this: Does any American suffer any direct harm if Israel (and/or Palestine) cease to exist tonight? If you think America can not exist without an alleged or real "democracy" in the ME, you are stupid or a liar, again, no gray zone, sorry.

"If Hamas is using its own civilians to shield its forces and armament from the Israelis, then what is the IDF's recourse?"

I don't know. I don't care. How the hell did you conclude it's my business or any American's business? I don't want the financial bill for Israel and even less do I want the hatred they generate in the world transfered to me because of our support for it.

Do you pity the Roman Empire for its passing into history? The Golden Age of Spain? Or the UK? Or France? If you don't, does that make you an Anti-Roman? An Anti-Spaniard? An anti-Brit? Anti-French? Will you help finance the resurrection of Rome as the center of the world?

I didn't think so.

"Does Israel as a nation have a right to exist? If not why not?"

No. No nation has a right to anything. Do you think God grants such rights to nations? See above concerning Rome. Rome's "right" to exist ceased when it was gone! Does Palestine have a "right" to keep its land borders after the '67 war? So far, history says, "NO!"

The USA's and Israel's attempts to spread democracy in the ME guarantee Israel's future destruction (Iraq, Libya, Ukraine, etc).

Do you think there's been any form of freedom or democracy in Ukraine/Kiev, where we've been picking sides against Russia? Pleeeeeeeeeeeeeee

If the USA does not stop picking sides in world issues, it's place in the sun is over.
