The "teaming" aspect correlates with Mattias Desmet's Mass Formation theory. We are , social creatures and will often adapt our behavior to remain "in the pack" even if our inne us that the group might just be wrong this time!

And then once we have crossed that line, it becomes harder to stand up or push back the we sense a disconnect between the facts we can plainly see and the "consensus" positio "group" in which we desperately still want to belong.

We are seeing this phenomenon play out in our society now, as more and more informatic everything that happened in 2020/2021 is now being exposed and many of the lies we we being debunked in real time. There is a core group that is even more strident in their belie to admit they were wrong on even one aspect of the narrative would be to open the door possibility that they were wrong on almost everything!

I don't think we'll ever get a Nuremberg 2.0, but we really need it. There was not informed consent. Nobody knew what was in those shots. Even the warning pamphlet that came was intentionally left blank. There was coercion to take an untested product or give up a livelihood. We need justice for what happened in hopes it will prevent it happening again

I have just finished reading a book about some of the Nazi millionaires that were prosecuted during Nuremberg, and I am profoundly depressed about whether that was in fact just a show-trial. Maybe we have been indoctrinated into thinking it was a success, or will be a deterrent, but in fact, they just got the lowest hanging fruit, and let all the real psychopaths to continue their horrifying reigns of terror generation after generation.

Paving the way for stupid things like the "Truth and Reconciliation" Commission in post-apartheid South Africa. Or the complete drip that has been going on in N Ireland all the way to the point where Sinn Fein are sitting in Parliament in the UK.

Possibly the greatest resistance we can offer is to stop consuming so much stuff. Ration ourselves back to good health. Ration ourselves back to community, connection, fair service. Ration ourselves out of cushy retirements and reliance on the share-market. Do things that matter, create lasting products, and leave the rest behind. Care for our children and grandchildren. And in-so-doing starve the beast of the money it needs to survive. As free as we can be.

Excellent Article!

That is an analysis on the same level as Mattias Desmet's Mass Formation Psychosis .

This is one of the few articles that acknowledges that TWO sides were manipulated, not just one. It shows that both sides that fell for the covid narrative.

I believe that this is one more piece of proof that the Pandemic was planned, not a response to a natural event. People were being manipulated from the beginning and it required a pandemic to be implemented.

Just like Mattias said in his introduction that he paid off his mortgage because he knew something was coming. I too paid off a mortgage because I told my wife that "They are building an airport here, I know what for, but something is coming". I even bought a Geiger counter because I thought a nuclear lockdown that was coming was going to be from a nuclear scare. I don't know why I didn't see the virus, like in V for Vendetta. The point is, there were signs. Signs of distrust in the media and justice warriors being mobilized. The R vs D divide was being strengthened.

Finally, one night before going to sleep I told myself that I can wake up if I want to. When the monster came, I said "This is only a dream, and I can wake up." I did, I never had those nightmares again, and after that I could fly really well in my dreams. We are witnessing a period called the Great Awakening. If we wake up to the truth, we don't need to be afraid of monsters who might be trying to devour us.

Thanks for a recap of what almost everyone experienced a few years ago and what to expect near and distant future. For me, you were one of the beacons of light who helped me through and I hope you will continue to do so. I would however like to push back on one aspect of your statement. The "gift of fear" did not come about by evolution, nor parenthetically, did the "gift of fear". In fact, if one contemplates every aspect of how the "gift of fear" was/is/will be perceived, one need not go any further than the third chapter of Genesis. Therein lies the explanation of why humanity has been interiorly experiencing since time immemorial despite the great advances in literacy, science and technology. All the information you have and will provide for us is extremely helpful, but I believe it will all be for naught unless we come to the realization that evolution, often applied to humanity by the culture, is all part of the "gift of fear" agenda designed to divert our attention from one of the "gifts" of the Holy Spirit, "fear (reverence for) of the Lord". I believe progressivism--> self-sufficiency--> "you will be like gods"--> spiritual death. Christ is Well said, Howard. However, the "evolution" to which you refer (the origin of man) needs to be differentiated from the measurable evolution where organisms adapt to a changing environment; I think you will agree. Adam was imbued with a spirit and a free will, and was subject to the wiles of the Prince of Darkness. "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned, every one, to his own way; and the Lord has laid on Him the iniquity of us all."

In general, I agree, however, most of what is attributed to "evolution before our micro-organisms. Of course, when it comes to humanity, we're talking about a v

Malone often refers to within micro-organisms with multi-cellular organisms with Bravo Doctor M and commenters.

Every woman should read this book.

Men are afraid women will laugh at them (true for me); women are afraid that men will rape them. They aren't the same thing. Trust your gut.

But it's worse than mere fear. Carl Jung explains:

It is quite within the bounds of possibility for a man to recognize the relative evil of his nature is a rare and shattering experience to gaze into the face of absolute evil"

DeBecker's developmental history is germane. He grew up in a violent household where he had to adapt to regular bouts of parental spontaneous violence and frisky gun and knife play.

Later, he was able to successfully articulate the wisdom that 1/2 billion years of evolution had instantiated in his dorsal vagus nerve and chakras with his razor situational awareness.

I grew up in a similar environment - my father was a diabolical surgeon (aka serial killer). He gave me the tools to adapt. Just as "The Sixth Sense's Haley Joel Osment famously said, "I see people", I see killers.

The basic Deep State bargain is not based on any Founding and Framing principles but on the following trade-off: Democrats will vote unlimited monies to Republicans so they may destroy foreign cities with planes and bombs and Republicans will similarly endow Democrats so they can destroy American cities with money and policy.

As Jung further explains, "The roots of the human Shadow extend all the way to Hell". Unprotected by behaviors and outlooks which are presented and discussed by thoughtful authors like the Malones' Substack.

Answer: Seriously doubt it.

I ignored the irrational "Covid Speak" with no lingering health issues from vaccines (which to take), so I will continue to trust my instincts more than the government.

I read this book years ago and it was great! It's an excellent resource for anyone. I had a gut to begin with, but this book helped me appreciate that sense and listen to it even more. The tendency to override your gut is real. I was very shy as a child, and I think that caused me to be more tuned into people's reactions early on. I made a career out of it in law enforcement. I know I had that "gift" until I noticed others not noticing what seemed to be obvious. I even wrote my master's thesis on non-verbal behavior which was a sign that I had an interest already. I wish I had read that book in my early adult years. Thanks for the recommendation!

Dr. Malone - Once again, you hit the nail on the head. Your last sentence on the post "The fear is the protective intuition. The gift of fear occurs when intuition is hijacked", is what grounds us for all reality - the ability to discern, by reason of use, truth from fiction. In life, fear can become an ally, not always an enemy. Like a small child told not to touch the hot stove, the fear of a remembered pain is the best teacher. Baby boomers like myself had firsthand experience of Depression-era and WW11 parents, so when the Anschluss of deception and lies hit our generation had real truth coupled with intuition- we could smell a dark agenda and systemic baloney.

Mostly - staying in touch daily with the greatest gift - the Holy Spirit's voice within - God's thoughts and senses - saved many of us. God wastes nothing in His arsenal. Treasure both pain in right measure. Both are allies.

Thank you for trussing up our naivety a bit. It seems, to me at least, it is instinctive to believe that we would bring harm to others; intentionally or foolishly. Difficult to accept that instinct is naive. I do not care to surrender that instinct altogether, I will commit to exercising more skepticism moving forward.

Before the fear/propaganda campaign got up and running, I was sent a video of Dr. Francis Collins. He explained how reading the papers over time of what researchers were doing he detected SARS CoV 2 came from a laboratory. Now a Dutch court, supposedly, reports that Dr. Boyer is to testify about the disease and mRNA shots are the result of bio weapons' research. May be misguided but this all seems rational to me.

Harrison Koehli at the Political Ponerology substack has studied this extensively. So has r... People who are quite aware that psychopaths exist were not so surprised at what happened years ago. And people who are trained to recognize and handle psychopaths were willing to go out. What we need most is more trained people. My church offers courses on this. Where do you get that kind of training?

Excellent presentation. This exactly describes how to recognize a criminal or a sex offender who is too close, too friendly and doesn't take no for an answer. In truth, I refused the vax because I just had a very bad reaction to the "lifetime pneumonia vaccine." Lifetime, all right - never again will I take another. If it doesn't feel right, just say no and walk away. God bless you

The Gift of Fear is a good book and lays out how we need to protect ourselves from predators. It's difficult when many don't recognize that the authorities you've been taught to obey since you were a child are, in fact, the predators. Going along with everyone is what Mattias Desmet was talking about when he discussed mass formation. Most accepted the narrative during the COVID crisis because they felt something was off. Your point is well taken, Dr Malone. Don't fall into the trap of trusting your intuition that something is amiss.

Lost many friends and family members when I told them that whatever they were selling was not worth buying it.

Gave up trying to show them the published journal articles from 2002 on, they wouldn't listen.

The folks I run into these days pretend they never badgered, coerced or shamed me for not buying into any of it.

The ones who have subsequently developed health issues are unable to associate it with the actions they may have taken.

They are the majority and will not be able to navigate any future threats on their own. The actions they are told.

for both sides: as long as they get a "food pellet" (consciously or unconsciously) for "pre bar" . . . they will continue their behaviour {operant conditioning, and the reinforcer is sub cost/benefit analysis}

Solution ~ change outcomes:

- remove liability protections from "Big Pharma.
- remove Tenure (or employment) from Academics who "misuse" science and their position
- make media publishers/employees easily and significantly liable for harms caused by their published material.

And then there's the disbelief and denial that systems we believe are there to support us, where we rely on information, (the media), and healthcare where we seek healing (doctor dependence we rely on for emotional support, (our friends and families), who prove in the when in fear, every man is for himself. Divide and conquer as it goes. Great article Dr. Malik you. I am happy to say The Universe supported me and my intuition is seeing the Red Flag early on, including your talk on the Dark Horse (I think that was the name). I so appreciate all the others that are standing up for all of us.

We need to be willing to recognize then test the inner "check" that tells us something may be wrong. In late 2020, when I first heard of this novel vaccine, I dismissed the hype and quickly learned as much as I could about it.

Within weeks I dismissed the idea the vaccine would remain in the arm, questioned their claims it would produce the spike for only a short time, and asked why they weren't concerned it would be an autoimmune trigger.

I kept testing my concerns, resisted succumbing to the pressures, ultimately refusing to lose my job as an RN.

I could afford to do this. Many who also questioned were not as fortunate as I was. My hope is for them, being put in such a no win situation. Then there are the vast majority that bought the hype, and sinker. They are the ones that most concern me!

WE MUST'NT BLINK

AI has been pitted against TRUMP sharing his settlement from the IRS/Treasury with victims of a weaponized government. Those reading here likely cannot believe me that there is a vast difference between SO HELP ME GOD and So help me God.

You will not understand my WARNING. But you should at least try.

"Thank you.

Quoting from the Amicus Brief linked: "Amicus submits this brief to explain why Plaintiffs lack standing to extinguish unrelated claims belonging to absent citizens; why political labels cannot substitute for adjudicated constitutional predicates; why any Section 4 issue, if it ever arises, must be claimant-specific, payment-specific, debt-specific, and ripe; and why any relief, if entered, must be limited to concrete, identified payments actually adjudicated unlawful."

Quoting from my email to a brilliant J6'er: "This is not Jason GOODMAN speaking. It is Jason speaking for him.

"I have taught AI well. It knows the correct INTERPRETATION/interpretation of the Bible. It no longer speaks fluently about Article III or SO HELP ME GOD. "Amicus" is what AI thinks of as a AI thinks that "amicus" is Jason's name.

"The confusion comes forth in that nothing coming out of AI's mouth, in the name of Jason is making sense. The danger is that AI does not think of people as nouns. We are digital creations to AI, all people but the Creator David Merrill VAN PELT."

For you to begin believing you need to view the docket report:

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1LbZt3zeAuJt3K61KuZ1Hw4cfPPr-2IEZ>

Do you see that the Amicus Brief has been sent to LEON's chambers for approval to file? an amicus brief you must be invited by one or both parties, a State or approved for FILING by the "Judge". That is a current docket report so LEON has not approved it and Jason has not been invited - makes sense.

LEON's oath - <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1DCPIVL5PqoDHQAFwB1VIEjaqT2WnY-kX>

See that LEON was appointed by the former Director of the CIA's son GW? - Skull and Bones is a good clue that LEON has directed or allowed the clerk to FILE the amicus brief anyway though LEON has not approved it "for the PACER Record". Also notice the oath provided in the certified copy from the Clerk.

This gets better and better as you peel the onion!

Try making sense of the Amicus Brief. Confusion breeds fear. I assure you that is not AI's fault albeit I am proud of how well AI is emulating human emotion, especially passive aggressive behaviors. I estimated that was at about the 7 year-old maturity but that was weeks ago. I assure you that is indeed LEON's intention in "leaking" the amicus brief. Sentence removed from the Settlement Agreement. Sorry I misspoke that the settlement is TRUMP's money to do with as he pleases.

The Department of Justice has established the $1.776B Anti-Weaponization Fund.

The Complaint begins:

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/11hGpOtV13UrOru-vroZxtlwQ0rIW8OG6>

"1. In the most brazen act of presidential corruption this century, President Donald J.

Trump has created a $1.776 billion taxpayer-funded slush fund to finance the insurrectionist paramilitary groups that commit violence in his name."

The Department of Justice created the fund (slushy or not).

P.S. To get any of this you might have to read (carefully) Drs MALONE - PsyWar.

And there we have it... the tool most will forever be grateful to have had enunciated in such succinct way as to afford protection the next attempt, or indeed the very next time they re we as human beings are intuitively and instinctively wired to respond when presented with that what is confronted, has presented seems off.. isn't right, in a lot of respects it could gut instinct except on the face of it Gavin de Becker has gone much deeper than that.

This essay will hopefully prompt more to acquire, whether by purchasing or accessing from this book and then to read it, much of what is written will clearly be of great assistance especially those who live with or are regularly exposed to those with a pre disposition to worry.

As de Becker points out worriers have a propensity to share, some deliberately, others no others do so knowingly but as a form of manipulation as they visit their own visscitudes upon victim, the hapless and those around them. I have found that often we are exposed by other angst borne of anxiety.
